

Replacement Page 1, 1st Paragraph

Description

BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION

The present invention relates to a flupirtine-containing lyophilisate, to the use of the lyophilisate for producing a pharmaceutical composition for parenteral administration, to a process for producing a flupirtine-containing pharmaceutical composition for parenteral administration, to a process for producing the flupirtine-containing lyophilisate, and to the flupirtine-containing pharmaceutical composition produced using the lyophilisate.

SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION

The present invention solves the technical problem on which it is based through provision of a lyophilisate which comprises the active ingredient flupirtine in base form or as physiologically tolerated salt and which can be employed to produce a pharmaceutical composition for parenteral administration.

Replacement Page 14, 3rd Paragraph (Lines 29-30)

DESCRIPTION OF PREFERRED EMBODIMENTS

The present invention is explained in more detail by the following examples.